Introduction

This eleventh edition of the guidelines for public servants on compliance with the provisions of the Ethics Acts has been drawn up to take account of a review by the Commission of the provisions of the Ethics in Public Office Acts 1995 and 2001 (the Ethics Acts). It takes account in the body of the guidelines below and in Appendices 2 of 3 of the most recent regulations prescribing public bodies, designated directorships and designated positions of employment in public bodies (SI 483 of 2018 and SI 484 of 2018). Where further regulations prescribing designated directorships and designated positions of employment have subsequently been made, these guidelines will apply to such directorships and positions from the date indicated.

Where further regulations are made by the Minister for Public Expenditure, NDP Delivery and Reform after the publication of these guidelines which prescribe public bodies, designated directorships and/or designated positions of employment in public bodies, but do not make any substantive changes to the legislative requirements as set out below, the guidelines will not be revised. Any changes to the lists of public bodies, designated directorships and/or designated positions of employment will be reflected in the relevant paragraph or appendix. Relevant salary amounts may also be updated when required.

These guidelines deal with:

- annual statements of interests;
- statements of a material interest;
- requirements regarding tax clearance, and
- specified acts

Appendix 1 contains the formats for statements of interests and statements of nil interests for use by various categories of public servants.

Appendix 2 sets out the current list of designated positions in Civil Service Departments/Offices.

Appendix 3 sets out the current lists of designated directorships and designated positions in the wider public service. Appendix 3 also sets out the officer of the body to who designated directors and the relevant authority to whom occupiers of designated positions furnish statements.

Part 1: Relevant legislation

For the purposes of these guidelines, the Ethics in Public Office Act 1995 and the Standards in Public Office Act 2001 are cited together as the Ethics in Public Office Acts 1995 and 2001 (the Ethics Acts).

Ethics in Public Office Act 1995 (the 1995 Act)

1. The 1995 Act established the Public Offices Commission and the Committees on Members' Interests of Dáil and Seanad Éireann. It provides for the disclosure of interests by office holders, the Attorney General, members of the Houses of the Oireachtas, special advisers and holders of designated directorships and occupiers of designated positions in the Civil Service and the semi-state sector.
2. The 1995 Act also provides for investigation of possible contraventions and for publication of guidelines and giving of advice to assist compliance with the provisions of the legislation. It describes, in detail, the powers of the Public Offices Commission, the circumstances in which complaints can be made and the process by which a decision to commence an investigation would be undertaken.
3. The 1995 Act prohibits the retention of valuable gifts by office holders.

Standards in Public Office Act 2001 (the 2001 Act)

4. The 2001 Act amends the 1995 Act in several respects. It provides for the establishment of the Standards in Public Office Commission (Standards Commission) and confers on it all of the functions and powers of its predecessor, the Public Offices Commission, under the 1995 Act.
5. The principal functions of the Standards Commission, as inherited from the Public Offices Commission, are to publish guidelines, to give advice and to investigate and report in relation to possible contraventions of the Ethics Acts. These functions of the Standards Commission relate to office holders (including Ministers and Ministers of State), the Attorney General, special advisers and holders of designated directorships and occupiers of designated positions in the Civil Service and the semi-state sector. The same functions are discharged by the Committees on Members' Interests of the Dáil and Seanad in relation to members of those Houses who are not office holders.
6. The 2001 Act includes tax clearance obligations for the Attorney General and persons who are appointed to senior office (i.e., designated positions or directorships in public bodies prescribed under the 1995 Act in relation to which the remuneration is not less than the lowest remuneration of a Deputy Secretary General in the Civil Service €206,232 with effect from 1 August 2025)). Details of the requirements in this regard are provided in Part 6.

7. The Standards in Public Office Act 2001 provides for a wide range of circumstances in which a complaint can be made to the Standards Commission. A complaint can be made to the Standards Commission in respect of an office holder, the Attorney General, a special adviser, a person who, at the relevant time, held a designated directorship of, or occupied a designated position of employment in, a public body, and a person who held or occupied, at the relevant time, any directorship of or position of employment in a public body. The 2001 Act provides for immunity for complainants and establishes a basis whereby the Standards Commission can appoint Inquiry Officers to carry out preliminary enquiries into complaints.

8. Section 10 of the 2001 Act provides for codes of conduct to be drawn up for certain specified categories of person. The codes, which are published by the Standards Commission, indicate standards of conduct and integrity for the persons to whom they relate in the performance of their functions and connected matters. To date, following consultation with the Standards Commission, codes were drawn up by the Government for the guidance of office holders, by the relevant Committees on Members' Interests for the guidance of members of Dáil Éireann and Seanad Éireann other than office holders and by the Minister for Finance for the guidance of civil servants. The codes are admissible in any proceedings before a court or other tribunal or a Committee on Members' Interests of either House of the Oireachtas or the Standards Commission and any provision of a code that appears to any of the aforementioned bodies to be relevant to a question in the proceedings may be taken into account in determining the question.

Part 2: Introduction to the guidelines

9. These guidelines for public servants have been drawn up by the Standards Commission, after consultation with the Committees on Members' Interests of Dáil and Seanad Éireann, as required under Section 25 (1)(a) of the 1995 Act. They relate specifically to public servants.
10. Separate guidelines have been published by the Standards Commission for office holders (i.e., Ministers, Ministers of State, an Attorney General who is a member of either House of the Oireachtas, the Chairman and Deputy Chairman of each House and the Chairman of a Committee of either House or of a joint Committee of both Houses, where the Committee has been designated for the purposes of the legislation).
11. The guidelines provide information on the steps that public servants who are covered by the Ethics Acts need to take in order to comply with the requirements of the legislation. In addition to the guidelines, public servants may seek advice from the Standards Commission concerning any provision of the legislation or the application of any such provision in any particular case.
12. Public servants must act in accordance with the guidelines and any advice given by the Standards Commission, unless by so doing they would be contravening another provision of the legislation.
13. Where requested, advice must be provided by the Standards Commission within 21 days or, alternatively, it may decline to give advice. Ideally, to eliminate any risk of misunderstanding, requests for advice should be made in writing (including by e-mail to info@sipo.ie). Normally, the Standards Commission will provide, or confirm, all advice of a substantive nature, in writing.
14. When a request for advice is made to the Standards Commission as referred to in paragraph 11, the provision concerned of the Ethics Acts will not, as regards the person who made the request, apply in relation to that person during the period from the making of the request to the time when the advice is given or the Standards Commission declines to give advice.
15. These guidelines will be admissible in any proceedings before a court or other tribunal or a Committee on Members' Interests of either House of the Oireachtas or the Standards Commission and any provision of the guidelines that appears to any of the aforementioned bodies to be relevant to a question in the proceedings may be taken into account in determining the question.
16. A number of key terms arise in the legislation and in these guidelines and a list of definitions from the legislation is provided in Part 8.

Part 3: Public Servants covered by the guidelines

17. These guidelines cover the following persons:

- (i) a person, who is not a member of Dáil Éireann or of Seanad Éireann, who holds or held the office of Attorney General;

- (vi) a person who occupies or occupied a position as a special adviser (as defined in Part 8).

Part 4: Procedure for disclosing interests - General

18. A person who is covered by these guidelines is required to furnish a statement, in writing, of:

- (i) the interests of the person, and
- (ii) the interests, of which the person has actual knowledge, of his or her spouse or civil partner or a child of the person or of his or her spouse which could materially influence the person in, or in relation to, the performance of the person's official functions by reason of the fact that such performance could so affect those interests as to confer on, or withhold from, the person, or the spouse or civil partner or child, a substantial benefit.

(Statement formats are at Appendix 1(a).)

19. A statement of interests is not legally required where the interests could not materially influence the person in, or in relation to, the performance of his or her official functions. The Standards Commission has, however, recommended that a 'nil' statement, rather than no statement, should be provided in such circumstances.

('Nil' statement formats are at Appendix 1(b).)

20. The interests referred to above are set out in paragraph 68. In the case of occupiers of designated positions in the Civil Service (appendix 2), statements are generally furnished to the Head of the Department or Office concerned. (Details are provided at Appendix 3 of the persons to whom statements should be furnished by holders of designated directorships and occupiers of designated positions in other prescribed public bodies.)

21. In addition to the statement of interests referred to in paragraph 18, a person who is covered by these guidelines is required to furnish a statement, at the time, where an official function falls to be performed by the person and the person has actual knowledge that he or she, or a connected person, has a material interest in a matter to which the function relates.

22. There are variations in the procedures for furnishing statements as they apply to the different categories listed in paragraph 17. Accordingly, the procedure for each category is set out in Part 5.

23. Where a person who is covered by these guidelines has an interest that is not set out in paragraph 66, or the person has actual knowledge that his or her spouse or civil partner or child or a child of the spouse has such an interest, the person may, at any time, furnish a statement of that interest to the person or persons nominated to receive such statements. Where such a statement is provided, the 1995 Act will apply and have effect as if the interest was an interest set out in paragraph 68.

24. Where a person who is covered by these guidelines receives advice from the Standards Commission or it appears from guidelines published by the Standards Commission that an interest of the person, or of the person's spouse or civil partner or child or a child of the spouse, is a disclosable interest, the person concerned must, as soon as possible, furnish a statement of that interest to the person or persons nominated to receive such statements.
25. Where a person who is covered by these guidelines fails to comply with a requirement to provide a statement of interests, the person may, at any time, furnish a statement, in writing, of the interests to the person or persons nominated to receive such statements.
26. Where there is a change in the interests of a person who is covered by these guidelines, or in the interests of the person's spouse or civil partner or child or a child of the spouse, the person may, at any time, furnish a statement of the change, in writing, to the person or persons nominated to receive such statements.
27. A scanned pdf of a statement of interests which has been signed by the person may be submitted by that person to the Commission. The person should retain the original statement, which may be requested by the Commission at a future date should this become necessary. Statements may be sent by email by the person making them to submissions@sipo.ie. Where more than one statement is to be submitted, each statement should be submitted in a separate email. Once the person has submitted a statement by email, he/she should not resubmit it unless requested to do so by the Standards Commission.
28. Where a public body coordinates the submission of statements to the Standards Commission and submits multiple statements on behalf of 'Designated Directors', these statements should be emailed to the Standards Commission at info@sipo.ie and not sent to submissions@sipo.ie.

Part 6: Requirements in relation to tax clearance

64. A person who is appointed as Attorney General or is appointed to senior office (i.e. a designated position or directorship in a public body prescribed under the 1995 Act in relation to which the remuneration is not less than the lowest remuneration of a Deputy Secretary General in the Civil Service (€206,232 with effect from 1 August 2025)) is obliged to comply with the requirements set out below in relation to tax clearance. Special advisers are not required to comply with these obligations. The requirements apply to appointees to senior office only where the directorship or position is a designated directorship or designated position at the time of the appointment.

Paragraph 5 of S.I. 699 of 2004, inter alia, prescribes as a designated position every position in respect of which the maximum salary is not less than the maximum salary of a principal (general service grade, Class B PRSI) in the Civil Service, in any public body which meets the following criteria:

a body, organisation or group established

- (a) by or under any enactment (other than the Companies Acts 1963 to 1990), or
- (b) under the Companies Acts 1963 to 1990, in pursuance of powers conferred by or under another enactment, and financed wholly or partly by means of moneys provided, or loans made or guaranteed, by a Minister of the Government or the issue of shares held by or on behalf of a Minister of the Government, or a company (within the meaning of the Companies Act 1963) a majority of the shares in which are held by or on behalf of a Minister of the Government, or any other body, organisation or group appointed by the Government or a Minister of the Government,

Accordingly, the tax clearance requirements set out below apply to any person appointed on or after 1 January 2005 to a position of employment in any public body meeting the above criteria (regardless of whether the public body is listed in the Schedules to regulations made by the Minister for Finance since 2004 in which designated directorships or designated positions of employment in specified public bodies were prescribed) in relation to which the remuneration is not less than the lowest remuneration of a Deputy Secretary General in the Civil Service.

A person appointed to senior office or as Attorney General in accordance with the above must provide the following to the Standards Commission, not more than nine months after the date of appointment:

- a Tax Clearance Certificate, which will issue, on application, from the Collector-General, where an appointee is in compliance with the obligations imposed by the Tax Acts, the Capital Acquisitions Tax

Consolidation Act 2003, and the enactments amending or extending that Act, the Capital Gains Tax Acts and the Value-Added Tax Consolidation Act 2010, and the enactments amending or extending that Act, and the Finance (Local Property Tax) Act 2012, and the enactments amending or extending that Act, (the Acts), in relation to the payment or remittance of any taxes, interest or penalties due to the Revenue Commissioners and the delivery of any returns required (the Tax Clearance Certificate must have been issued by the Collector-General within a period of nine months before or after the date of appointment), or

- an Application Statement, which is issued by the Collector-General, following an application, and is to the effect that the person has applied for a Tax Clearance Certificate and that a decision on the application has not been made (the Collector-General would issue an Application Statement where it had not yet been decided whether to issue or refuse a Tax Clearance Certificate, or where the application for the issue of a tax clearance certificate had been refused and the refusal was the subject of an appeal or further appeal which was awaiting determination; an Application Statement that was issued to the person must have been made within a period of nine months before or after the date of appointment) and
- a Statutory Declaration, which is a declaration made by the appointee in accordance with the Statutory Declarations Act 1938, as amended, testifying that, at the time of its making, the appointee is, to the best of his or her knowledge or belief, in compliance with the obligations imposed on him or her by the Acts referred to above and is not aware of any impediment to the issue of a Tax Clearance Certificate (the Statutory Declaration must have been made by the person within a period of one month before or after the date of appointment to senior office).

For example, a person who is appointed to senior office on 1 March 2023 must:

- (a) make a statutory declaration not earlier than 2 February 2023 and not later than 31 March 2023 and
- (b) furnish
 - (i) that statutory declaration and
 - (ii) a Tax Clearance Certificate (which was issued not earlier than 2 June 2022 and not later than 30 November 2023) or an Application Statement (which was made not earlier than 2 June 2022 and not later than 30 November 2023) to the Standards Commission not later than 30 November 2023.

65. Contravention of these requirements may lead to investigation by the Standards Commission and the drawing up of a written report of the result of the investigation. In the case of an Attorney General, the Standards Commission will furnish a copy of the report to the Taoiseach who will cause copies of it to be laid before each House of the Oireachtas. In the case of an appointee to senior office, the Standards Commission will furnish a copy of the report to the public body concerned and will cause copies of the report to be laid before each House.

66. Where an Attorney General or an appointee to senior office contravenes the above requirements, he or she must provide, to the Standards Commission, a Tax Clearance Certificate and/or a Statutory Declaration as early as possible and, in any event, within one month of receipt of a Tax Clearance Certificate or the making of a Statutory Declaration, as the case may be.
67. Where an Attorney General or an appointee to senior office has not complied with the above requirements by the time the Annual Report of the Standards Commission for the year in question, or any later such report, is being prepared, the Standards Commission will, in the case of an Attorney General, specify the non-compliance in the report and, in the case of an appointee to senior office, notify the non-compliance to the head of the public body concerned. When compliance has been achieved, the Standards Commission will, in the case of an Attorney General, notify the Taoiseach who will cause copies of the notification to be laid before the Houses and, in the case of an appointee to senior office, notify the head of the public body concerned.

Part 7: Disclosable interests under the Ethics Acts

68. The following are the interests which are referred to in paragraph 18, being the interests specified in the Second Schedule to the 1995 Act. It should be noted that it will not be necessary to specify in a statement of interests the amount or monetary value of any interest or the remuneration of any trade, profession, employment, vocation or other occupation included in the statement. A reference in this paragraph to "during the appropriate period" means during the period to be covered by the statement of interests.

(a) Occupation, etc.

A remunerated trade, profession, employment, vocation or other occupation (other than that specified in paragraph 17) of the person concerned at any time during the appropriate period where the remuneration to the person, e.g. pay, pension, benefits-in-kind, rental income, etc., during the period exceeded €2,600.

The threshold figure of €2,600 is the gross figure. Remuneration/payment/income etc. from the same trade, profession, employment etc. is cumulative over the registration period.

Where income arises from land/property (including any house/apartment) held jointly with another it is for the person to determine whether or not his/her share of that income exceeded €2,600 during the registration period concerned.

If you receive an income through rental of a "private home" as explained under the heading "Land" below, the occupation of Landlord or Lessor should be declared if this income exceeds €2,600 during the registration period. So, for example, if the person rents out a holiday home, the holiday home, if it is a "private home" within the meaning of the 1995 Act, (see further the section on Land below) is not registrable but any rental income is registrable under this heading once the amount exceeds the threshold. In a similar vein, if the person has a second property which is occupied in part by his/her child, and in part rented out, the property may still be classified as a 'private home' for the purposes of the legislation but the occupation of landlord or lessor becomes registrable once the income exceeds the threshold. Note that, in the case of a private home, a person is not required to provide the full address of this property.

Normal pension entitlements which accrued and which were not payable during the registration period are not reckonable for the purposes of the calculation of remuneration.

An income exceeding €2,600 in the registration period concerned makes the trade, profession, employment, vocation or other occupation registrable even if the person does not himself/herself actually carry on the business to which that interest relates.

Please note that in no case is the person required to specify the amount of income/remuneration received. The key requirement is to register the occupation.

(b) Shares, etc.

A holding by the person concerned of shares, bonds, debentures, or other like investments in any particular company or other enterprise or undertaking, with an aggregate nominal or market value in excess of €13,000 at any time during the appropriate period. Holding does not include money in a current, deposit or other similar account with a financial institution but does include a holding in unit trusts or managed funds.

In relation to the value of a shareholding in a private limited company, the relevant figure is the net value of the company. The net value of the company can be calculated by subtracting the net liabilities of the company from the net assets of the company. If at any point during the registration period, the person concerned's share (i.e. percentage of the shareholding) of the net value of the company exceeded €13,000 the interest must be registered. If the person is unsure whether the shareholding must be registered, he/she should seek the advice of the Standards Commission. If any issue arises in respect of whether a shareholding was registrable, the Standards Commission may, inter alia, rely on figures submitted by the company to any state agency (e.g. the Companies Registration Office or the Revenue Commissioners), where such figures are available.

In relation to a Public Limited Company, the relevant figure is the market value of the shares during the registration period.

In respect of a holding in a unit trust or managed fund, if, during the registration period, the value of the overall aggregate investment at any time exceeds €13,000, the existence of the holding must be disclosed. A break-down between individual investments within the holding in the unit trust or managed fund is not required.

Shares, bonds (including government bonds), debentures or other similar investments, whether domestic or foreign, held by the person concerned solely in the capacity as an executor to a Will are not registrable. If, however, in addition to being an executor, the person is also a beneficiary of the shares, bonds (including government bonds), debentures or other similar investments, this interest is registrable if its value exceeds €13,000 at any time during the registration period concerned and the shares have been transferred to the person or he/she has, as executor, the right to transfer ownership of such shares to himself/herself.

An investment exceeding the value of €13,000 held in a company which is the subject of a Business Expansion Scheme is a registrable interest. The value of an interest of this kind should be judged against the size of the original investment rather than against its periodically fluctuating value.

A pension fund for which the person concerned is paying which will mature only on retirement and in respect of which no dividends are payable is not required to be disclosed.

(c) Directorships

A directorship or shadow directorship of any company held by the person concerned at any time during the appropriate period.

For the avoidance of doubt –

- The terms “directorship”, “de facto directorship” and “shadow directorship” should be interpreted widely. In this regard, reference should be made to the definitions of “director”, “de facto directorship” and “shadow director” included in these Guidelines.
- A “Company” is defined by the legislation as meaning a “body corporate” and should be interpreted in the widest possible sense, i.e. a registered or unregistered company, a local authority, a public body, a body established by charter or any other body having an existence, rights and duties distinct from the individual persons forming the group, whether that body corporate is domestic or foreign. This may include for example, the board of a sports club, or a school board of management.
- Assets owned by a Company are not registrable.

(d) Land (including premises)

Any interest in land of the person concerned, including land in the State and land in any other jurisdiction, being an interest that exceeded in value €13,000 at any time during the appropriate period. This includes an interest in any contract for the purchase of land, whether or not a deposit or part payment has been made under the contract. It also includes an interest in any option held to purchase land, whether or not any consideration has been paid in respect thereof, or land in respect of which such an option has been exercised but which has not been conveyed.

The full address of any land or property in which the person concerned has a registrable interest or his/her spouse, civil partner, child or child of a spouse, an additional interest must be disclosed.

A person is not required under this heading to disclose information regarding his or her private home or that of a spouse or civil partner and any subsidiary or ancillary land to such home that is not being used or developed primarily for commercial purposes. Also excluded is a holiday home and any other private home used by the person or his or her family and any land that is subsidiary or ancillary to it which is required for its amenity or convenience and is not being used or developed primarily for commercial purposes.

Where, however, land ancillary to a private home is being used for commercial purposes, such land becomes registrable. Further, any income from the property, makes the occupation registrable where such income exceeds a gross threshold of €2,600. Persons concerned should note, therefore, that while private homes, holiday homes, second properties etc., which are occupied (as provided for above), are not registrable under the heading "Land", any occupational rental income from a property which exceeds €2,600 gross, cumulatively, for an individual property over the registration period, makes the occupation of Landlord or Lessor registrable under Occupations etc.

Accordingly, where land attached to the private home or holiday home is rented out, this land must be registered where its use is primarily commercial.

In addition, if the rental income exceeds €2,600, that rental occupation (i.e. of Landlord or Lessor) is registrable under Occupations etc.

Land or property held by the person concerned solely in the capacity as an executor to a Will is not a registrable interest. If, however, in addition to being an executor, the person is also a beneficiary of the land or property this interest is registrable if its value exceeds €13,000 at any time during the registration period concerned and the land or property has been transferred to him/her or he/she has, as executor, the right to transfer ownership of such land or property to himself/herself.

(e) Gifts

A gift, or gifts from the same person, given to the person concerned during the appropriate period where the value, or the aggregate value, exceeded €650.

Excluded from this requirement is a gift given to the person, for purely personal reasons, by a relative or civil partner or friend of the person or of his or her spouse or civil partner or child or of the spouse's child (child being a son or daughter of any age), unless acceptance of the gift could have materially influenced the person in the performance of his or her official functions.

(f) Property and services

Property supplied or lent or a service supplied to the person concerned, once or more than once by the same person, during the appropriate period, where the consideration or price was less than the commercial consideration or price by more than €650. Also included is property lent or a service supplied free of charge where the commercial consideration or price would have been more than €650.

Excluded is property supplied or lent or a service supplied to the person, as a gift for purely personal reasons, by a relative or civil partner or friend of the person or of his or her spouse or civil partner or child or of the spouse's child, unless acceptance could have materially influenced the person in the performance of his or her official functions.

If services disclosed relate to legal or medical services (including psychiatric or psychological services) it will be sufficient to state that the services were supplied. No further details will be required.

(g) Travel facilities, etc.

Travel facilities, living accommodation, meals or entertainment supplied to the person concerned during the appropriate period free of charge or at less than the commercial price.

Excluded are:

- travel facilities, living accommodation, meals or entertainment supplied, by the same person, once or more than once, free of charge during the appropriate period where the commercial price or the aggregate of the commercial prices was less than €650, or supplied where the price paid was less than the commercial price by not more than €650;
- travel facilities, living accommodation, meals or entertainment provided:
 - (i) within the State,*
 - (ii) in the course and for the purpose of performing the person's official functions, or*
 - (iii) in the course and for the purpose of any trade, profession, employment or other occupation of the person;*
- travel facilities, living accommodation, meals or entertainment supplied as a gift for personal reasons by a relative or civil partner or friend of the person or of his or her spouse or civil partner or child or of the spouse's child, unless the acceptance of such might reasonably be seen to have been capable of influencing the person in the performance of his or her official functions.

(h) Remunerated position

A remunerated position held by the person concerned as a political or public affairs lobbyist, consultant or adviser during the appropriate period.

(i) Contracts

Any contract, or contracts, for the supply of goods or services to a Minister of the Government or a public body during the appropriate period, to which the person concerned was a party or in which he or she was interested in any other way, directly or indirectly, if the aggregate value of the goods or services supplied to a Minister of the Government or a public body during the appropriate period exceeded €6,500.

Note that the key test is whether the value of the goods and/or services actually supplied by way of one (or more) contract(s) in the registration period exceeded €6,500 in value.

Part 8: Specified acts

69. A specified act is an act or omission referred to in section 4(1)(a) of the 2001 Act. To be a specified act the act or omission in question must, or the circumstances of the act or omission must:

1. be inconsistent with the proper performance of the functions of office or position, or

be inconsistent with the maintenance of confidence in such performance by the general public,

2. be of significant public importance.

70. A complaint may be made to the Commission about an alleged specified act by a specified person.

A specified person must bear in mind that there may be acts and omissions on their part which, though not illegal, could be regarded as being inconsistent in themselves or in their context with the proper performance as such a person of their functions or duties, or with the proper exercise of their functions or duties, or with the maintenance by the general public of confidence in that performance or exercise.

73. When considering whether a matter is of significant public importance, specified persons should note that the guidance contained in section 4(5)(b) of the 2001 Act serves to identify the conditions which necessitate a finding that a matter is, where the Commission considers it appropriate to do so, of significant public importance, i.e. that the benefit alleged to have been received by a specified person or a connected person, in the opinion of the Commission, is or might have been or expected to be not less than €12,697. However, this section should not be construed as meaning that matters, the value of which are below €12,697 could not be deemed to be of significant public importance. The Commission must have regard to "all the circumstances" which considering whether a matter is of significant public importance and in this regard the monetary limit of €12,697 is indicative and not decisive as to whether the matter is of significant public importance.

ETHICS IN PUBLIC OFFICE ACT 1995 SECTION 19

Special advisers.

19.—(1) In this section “special adviser” means a person who—

(a) occupies or occupied a position to which section 7(1)(e) of the Public Service Management (Recruitment and Appointments) Act 2004 relates, having been selected for appointment to that position by an office holder personally otherwise than by means of a competitive procedure, or

(b) is or was employed under a contract for services by an office holder, having been selected for the award of the contract by an office holder personally otherwise than by means of a competitive procedure, and whose function or principal function as such a person is or was to provide advice or other assistance to or for the office holder.

(2) The period for which a person acting as a special adviser occupies the excluded position concerned or is employed under the contract for services concerned shall end not later than the date on which the office holder to whom he or she is acting as a special adviser ceases to hold the office by reference to which he or she is an office holder.

(3) (a) If the remuneration of a person as a special adviser exceeds a prescribed amount, then—

(i) subject to section 20 (3), in each year during any part of which the person is a special adviser, he or she shall prepare and furnish to the office holder concerned and the Commission a statement in writing of—

(I) the interests of the person, and

(II) the interests of which he or she has actual knowledge of his or her spouse or civil partner or a child of the person or of his or her spouse, during the appropriate period specified in section 20 (1) which could materially influence the person in or in relation to the performance of his or her functions as a special adviser by reason of the fact that such performance could so affect those interests as to confer on or withhold from the person or the spouse or civil partner or child a substantial benefit,

(ii) in any case where such a function falls to be performed and he or she has knowledge that he or she or a connected person has a material interest in a matter to which the function relates, he or she—

(III) shall, as soon as may be, prepare and furnish to the office holder and to the Commission a statement in writing of those facts,

(II) shall not perform the function unless there are compelling reasons requiring him or her to do so, and

(IV) shall, if he or she proposes to perform the function, prepare and furnish to the office holder and the Commission, before or, if that is not reasonably possible, as soon as may be after such performance, a statement in writing of the compelling reasons aforesaid,

and

(iii) the person shall undertake not to engage in any trade, profession, vocation or other occupation, whether remunerated or otherwise, which might reasonably be seen to be capable of interfering or being incompatible with the performance by the person of his or her functions as a special adviser.

(b) Different amounts may be prescribed under paragraph (a) in relation to different categories of special adviser.

(4) An office holder shall, in respect of a person who acts or acted as a special adviser to him or her, lay the following documents before each House of the Oireachtas, that is to say—

(a) a copy of the contract, or a statement in writing of the terms and conditions, under which the person acts or acted as a special adviser,

(b) a copy of any statement under subsection (3) (a) (i) of the interests of the person furnished to the office holder,

(c) a statement as to whether the person is a relative of the office holder, and

(d) if subsection (3) applies to the person, a statement of the qualifications of the person relevant to his or her functions as a special adviser.

(6) There shall be deemed to be included in the terms on which a person who is acting as a special adviser to an office holder occupies the excluded position concerned or is employed under the contract for services concerned—

(a) a term that the period for which the person occupies the excluded position or is employed under the contract for services shall end not later than the date on which the office holder ceases to hold the office by reference to which he or she is an office holder, and

(b) if subsection (3) applies to the person, a term that he or she shall comply with that subsection.

(7) Subsection (4) shall be complied with not later than 60 days after the person concerned was appointed to act as a special adviser and, in case a document referred to in paragraph (b) of that subsection is furnished to the office holder concerned at any time after the expiration of the period aforesaid, not later than 60 days after that time, and such compliance shall, in a case where the office holder concerned dies or becomes incapacitated, be effected by the Taoiseach.

Appendix 3: Officers of the Body for Designated Directorships and Relevant Authorities for Designated Positions of Employment in Public Bodies Prescribed for the Purposes of the Ethics in Public Office Act 1995

Officers of the Body for Designated Directorships and Relevant Authorities for Designated Positions of Employment in Public Bodies Prescribed for the Purposes of the Ethics in Public Office Act 1995

Statutory Instrument S.I. No. 484 of 2018 - Ethics in Public Office (Prescribed Public Bodies, Designated Directorships of Public Bodies and Designated Positions in Public Bodies) (Amendment) Regulations 2018, made under the Ethics in Public Office Act 1995 (No. 22 of 1995), which updates S.I. No. 699 of 2004 and came into operation on 21 November 2018, prescribes certain directorships and positions of employment in public bodies, under the First Schedule to the 1995 Act, as either "designated directorships" or "designated positions of employment", for the purposes of the Ethics legislation (i.e. the Ethics in Public Office Act 1995 and the Standards in Public Office Act 2001).

As provided for by Sections 17 and 18 of the 1995 Act, holders of designated directorships and occupiers of designated positions of employment must, where an interest is held by the person, or where the person has actual knowledge of the interests of his / her spouse or civil partner or child of the person or child of the spouse, which could materially influence the person in or in relation to the performance of his or her official functions, furnish a statement of those interests to the officer of the body (for designated directors) or to the relevant authority for the position (for occupiers of designated positions of employment). The officers of the body for designated directorships and the relevant authorities for designated positions of employment in each of the public bodies listed in the Schedules to S.I. No. 484 of 2018 are specified below. Interests are those defined in the Second Schedule to the 1995 Act.

Persons holding designated directorships are also required to furnish a copy of any statement of interests to the Standards in Public Office Commission, 6 Earlsfort Terrace, Dublin 2, D02 W773.

Please note that:

- regulation 2 of S.I. No. 678 of 2006 amended regulation 4 of S.I. No. 699 of 2004 to provide that the prescription of directorships as “designated directorships” does not apply where the holder of the directorship holds the office of a judge of any court;

- in addition to the designated positions of employment specifically listed in the schedule below, under regulation 5 of S.I. No. 699 of 2004, every position of employment in any of the public bodies listed hereunder, in respect of which the maximum salary for the position is not less than the maximum salary of a principal (general service grade, class B PRSI) in the Civil Service, is prescribed as a designated position of employment;
- where public bodies are amalgamated / subsumed or a public body extinguished, the relevant authority in the successor public body is the relevant authority for designated positions of employment in a public body that is being extinguished; and where there is no obvious successor public body the Secretary General of the parent department is the relevant authority.

The names of public bodies are as set out in the regulations and do not reflect any changes of name since those regulations were made.
