Joint Honorary National Treasurers' Report

We, the Party's Joint Honorary National Treasurers, present the consolidated financial statements for the Fianna Fáil organisation for the year ended 31 December 2025. These statements have been prepared in line with the guidelines issued by the Standards in Public Office Commission and the provisions of the Electoral Act 1997.

These financial statements also reflect the increased reporting requirements as set out in the Electoral Reform Act 2022.

Following the General Election, in January 2025, Micheál Martin T.D. was re-elected Taoiseach to lead the new coalition government with an ambitious Programme for Government to deliver over the next five years for the country.

As a result of the successful election results the Party had in 2024, the Party's state funding increased to €5,981,831 during 2025 in line primarily with the established formula under legislation for this funding.

In terms of a breakdown of the Party's state funding, the Party received €1,638,613 in funding under the Electoral Acts, €2,231,447 under the Parliamentary Leaders Allowance and finally, a staffing allocation from the Houses of the Oireachtas with a total value of €2,111,771. None of these funds are permitted to be used for elections or referenda, which can only be funded by income generated through Party fundraising income streams.

The Party are reporting a consolidated surplus of €600,991 for the year ended 31st December 2025 and is driven mainly the Party's increase in state funding but also, due to a reduction in the Party's cost base. In terms of the Party's fundraising streams, the Party continues to deliver a strong year on year performance with €688,382 in gross fundraising income during 2025.

The Party have also continued to make progress in strengthening the Party's balance sheet. The Party disposed of its property held in Clonmel for €507,000 as reflected in the consolidated cash flow statement and once again, in line with projections, substantially reduced our debt level in a non-election year to €714,000 and expect to substantially reduce or clear this debt level again in 2026. Reflecting the strength of the Party's finances, from 2027 onwards, the Party's focus for our finances will be to accumulate resources through the Party's fundraising initiatives, such as the National Draw, for the next election cycle to ensure we can run the strongest campaigns possible for our candidates across the country.

We wish to thank our members and supporters for their continued support and for everything they continue to do for Fianna Fáil.

Overview Statement

Review of Political Activities

Committees

The Ard Chomhairle is the governing body of the Fianna Fáil Party (when the Ard Fheis is not in session) that oversees the overall direction of the Party and the policy-making process. It carries out this role by meeting at least 7 times annually. The Ard Chomhairle has a number of sub-committees and is responsible for upholding the rules of the Party and propriety of Fianna Fáil selection processes. Details of the principal specialist committees of the Ard Chomhairle are as follows:

Committee	Responsibility
Rules and Procedures Committee	This committee is delegated responsibility from the Ard-Chomhairle to uphold the rules of the Party. After it meets it reports to the subsequent plenary meeting of the Ard-Chomhairle.
Finance Committee	This committee focuses on the finances of the Party and allows for an in-depth analysis of Party finances discussed at Ard-Chomhairle meetings. This committee is chaired by the elected Joint Honorary Treasurers of the Party. It would be the responsibility of this Committee to review and approve the Financial statements of the Party. After it meets it reports to the subsequent plenary meeting of the Ard-Chomhairle.
Organisation Committee	This committee is responsible for Party organisational matters including dealing with Party structures and events. After it meets it reports to the subsequent plenary meeting of the Ard-Chomhairle.
Membership Committee	This committee is responsible for overseeing party membership recruitment and adjudicating membership appeals. After it meets it reports to the subsequent plenary meeting of the Ard-Chomhairle.

Governance of the party

When the Party Ard Fheis (National Conference) is not in session the supreme governing authority of the Party is the Ard-Chomhairle. It is the responsibility of the Party's Finance Committee to review and approve the financial statements of the Party and the Ard Comhairle ratifies this decision.

The Party's key officials are the Trustees of the Party (including the Party Leader), the Honorary Treasurers and the Party's Appropriate Officer, the General Secretary. All of the Party's key officials are signatories to the financial statements.

The names of those serving on the Ard-Chomhairle are provided in Appendix IV.

Structure of the party

Each party unit is organised on the basis of communities, parishes and local electoral areas. Officers for each party unit are voted on the basis of "one member, one vote".

Cumann

The fundamental unit of the Party is the Cumann (local branch). In general the Cumann represents a parish or polling station area.

Comhairle Ceantair

The Comhairle Ceantair manages Fianna Fáil's affairs within the Local Electoral Area. Each Comhairle Ceantair (CC) elects an Officer Board every year at the A.G.M. Some constituencies (in Dublin for example) do not have any Comhairle Ceantair.

Comhairle Dáil Ceantair

The Comhairle Dáil Ceantair manages Fianna Fáil's affairs within the constituency or county.

Ard Chomhairle

The Ard Chomhairle (National Executive) is the supreme governing body of the Party when the Ard Fheis is not in session.

Ard Fheis

The supreme ruling body within Fianna Fáil is the Ard Fheis. This conference takes place every 12 to 18 months and attracts up to 2,000 party members to discuss proposed motions and rule changes. The Ard Chomhairle is elected at each Ard Fheis.

Party Headquarters

Fianna Fáil Party Headquarters is located at 65-66 Lower Mount Street, Dublin 2.

Scope of the financial statements

The financial statements presented on pages 14 to 24 cover all of the activities of Fianna Fail Headquarters, combining the results for 2025 for the three entities Fianna Fáil Headquarters, Fianna Fáil Parliamentary Leaders Account and Fianna Fáil Election and Fundraising. It also incorporates the valuation of any non-monetary donations received by the Party during the year, the staffing allocation received from the Houses of the Oireachtas and any financial returns lodged with the Electoral Commission in Northern Ireland where the Party is currently registered.

Fianna Fáil

The financial statements presented on pages 25 to 36 represent the consolidation of the activities of Fianna Fail Headquarters, together with the those of the two Party units which meet the criteria for inclusion in 2025 Consolidated financial statements.

The Electoral Reform Act 2022, resulting in the updated SIPO guidelines issued October 2024 has brought increased reporting requirements for all political parties around the inclusion of qualifying subsidiary organisations and/or party properties held at local branch level. In terms of subsidiary organisations, if the income or expenditure in any one year exceeds €40,000 or the total cash balances or assets exceed €100,000 for such a subsidiary organisation then they must be included in the consolidated financial statements for that political party. We have included two qualifying Party units in the consolidated financial statements for the Party for 2025. A listing of all Party units both included and excluded from consolidation is provided in Appendix V.

The financial statements presented on pages 37 to 50 cover the activities of the two Fianna Fail subsidiaries that meet the criteria for inclusion in 2025.

In preparing the statement of accounts, I am required to

- comply with generally applicable accounting practice in Ireland including FRS 102, subject to any material departure being disclosed and explained in the statement of accounts,
- include any additional information required by law or regulation, and

I am also responsible for keeping all proper and usual books of account of the Party that

- disclose at any time, with reasonable accuracy, the financial position of the Party at that time, and
- enable me to ensure that the annual statement of accounts complies with the guidelines.

Independent Auditors' Report to the Trustees of Fianna Fáil - Fianna Fáil Consolidated

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Fianna Fáil for the year ended 31st December 2025 which comprise the Income and Expenditure Account, Statement of Financial Position, Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including the summary of significant accounting policies set out therein. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is Irish Law and FRS 102 - The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland.

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of Fianna Fáil affairs as at 31 December 2025 and its income and expenditure and cash flows for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with FRS 102 - The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland and with the provisions of the Electoral Act 1997 (as amended) and the guidelines issued by the Standards in Public Office Commission.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (Ireland) (ISAs (Ireland)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are described below in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of Fianna Fáil in accordance with ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of financial statements in Ireland, including the Ethical Standard issued by the Irish Auditing and Accounting Supervisory Authority (IAASA), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which ISAs (Ireland) require us to report to you where:

- The Trustees use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is not appropriate: or
- The Trustees have not disclosed in the financial statements any identified material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the Party's ability to continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting for a period of at least twelve months from the date when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Other information

The Trustees are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed

Based solely on the work undertaken in the course of the audit, we report that:

- We have obtained all the information and explanations which we consider necessary for the purposes of our audit.
- In our opinion proper accounting records have been kept by the Trustees and
- The financial statements are in agreement with the accounting records.

Respective responsibilities

Responsibilities of the Trustees for the financial statements

As explained more fully in the Statement of Trustees responsibilities, the Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as is determined to be necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Trustees are responsible for assessing the Party's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Trustees either intends to liquidate the Party or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Party's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Trustees.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Trustees use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Party's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the party to cease to continue as a going concern.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Accounting Policies

The following accounting policies have been applied consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the financial statements.

Statement of Compliance

The financial statements of Fianna Fáil for the year ended 31 December 2025 have been prepared on the going concern basis and in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Ireland and Irish statute and in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) issued by the Financial Reporting Council and in accordance with the provisions of the Electoral Act 1997 (as amended) and the guidelines issued by the Standards in Public Office Commission.

Income and Expenditure

Income is recognised on an accruals basis which reflects when the income is earned.

Expenditure is recognised on an accruals basis.

In previous years, membership fee income was recognised on an accruals basis over the membership year, deferring any unearned portion at each year end. This aligned with FRS 102 Section 23 principles, recognising revenue as performance obligations were satisfied and benefits delivered. However, the SIPO October 2024 guidelines, have mandated recognition of membership fee income on a receipts basis, which the Party believes conflicts with FRS 102. This is because, in contrast to the Guidelines – the party believes that it does (being a membership organisation) provide services to its members over the membership year.

To comply and to help with comparability in the sector to users of the financial statements, the Party has changed its policy to recognise membership fee income on receipt. This change has been applied retrospectively in accordance with Section 10 of FRS 102. The cumulative adjustment to opening reserves on 1 January 2024 amounted to €100,264

Tangible Fixed Assets and Depreciation

Fixed Assets are valued at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the cost less residual value of each asset over its expected useful life, as follows:

Leasehold Property	-	10% Straight Line
Computers and Equipment	-	25% Straight Line
Office Furniture and Fittings	-	10% Straight Line
Motor Vehicles	-	33% Straight Line
Database	-	33% Straight Line

Leasing Commitments

Payments made under operating leases are charged to the income and expenditure account as incurred.

Employee Benefits

Staff Costs incurred through direct funding and staff allocations from the Houses of the Oireachtas are reflected in the notes to the financial statements and consistent with formats provided under FRS102.

Pensions

Fianna Fáil operates a defined contribution pension scheme and pension contributions are charged to the income and expenditure account in the period in which they become payable.

Taxation

A provision for taxation is not required as any surpluses arising in the accounts are not liable to taxation.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash is represented by cash in hand and deposits with financial institutions repayable without penalty on notice of not more than 24 hours. Cash equivalents are highly liquid investments that mature in no more than three months from the date of acquisition and that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash with insignificant risk of change in value.

Significant Accounting Judgements and Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

Preparation of the financial statements requires management to make significant judgements and estimates. The items in the financial statements where these judgments and estimates have been made include:

Annual Depreciation Charge

The annual depreciation charge depends primarily on the estimated life of each type and component of asset and, in certain circumstances, estimates of fair values and residual values. Management annually review these asset lives and adjust them as necessary to reflect current thinking on remaining lives in light of technological change, prospective economic utilisation and physical condition of the assets concerned. Changes in asset lives can have a significant impact on depreciation charges for the period. It is not practical to quantify the impact of changes in asset lives on an overall basis, as asset lives are individually determined, and there are a number of various asset lives in use. The impact of any change would vary significantly depending on the individual changes in assets and the classes of assets impacted.

Note 27 – Prior Year Adjustment

In previous years, membership fee income was recognised on an accruals basis over the membership year, deferring any unearned portion at each year end. This aligned with FRS 102 Section 23 principles, recognising revenue as performance obligations were satisfied and benefits delivered. However, the SIPO October 2024 guidelines, have mandated recognition of membership fee income on a receipts basis, which the Party believes conflicts with FRS 102. This is because, in contrast to the Guidelines – the party believes that it does (being a membership organisation) provide services to its members over the membership year.

To comply and to help with comparability in the sector to users of the financial statements, the Party has changed its policy to recognise membership fee income on receipt. This change has been applied retrospectively in accordance with Section 10 of FRS 102. The cumulative adjustment to opening reserves on 1 January 2024 amounted to €100,264.

Note 27 – Prior Year Adjustment

In previous years, membership fee income was recognised on an accruals basis over the membership year, deferring any unearned portion at each year end. This aligned with FRS 102 Section 23 principles, recognising revenue as performance obligations were satisfied and benefits delivered. However, the SIPO October 2024 guidelines, have mandated recognition of membership fee income on a receipts basis, which the Party believes conflicts with FRS 102. This is because, in contrast to the Guidelines – the party believes that it does (being a membership organisation) provide services to its members over the membership year.

To comply and to help with comparability in the sector to users of the financial statements, the Party has changed its policy to recognise membership fee income on receipt. This change has been applied retrospectively in accordance with Section 10 of FRS 102. The cumulative adjustment to opening reserves on 1 January 2024 amounted to €100,264.
